Product Description: Solid, flexible, cellular material formed from sponge rubber, reinforced with non-woven nylon or polyester fabric.

Caution: Product is flammable. Keep away from heat, sparks and flames. Exposure to an ignition source such as open flames, welding operations, smoking materials, exposed lighting, space heaters, electrical sparks or other heat sources may result in a fire and cause serious personal injury or death.

Storage: Store product in a dry area. Avoid elevated storage temperatures. Keep away from open flames, burning cigarettes, space heaters, exposed light bulbs, exposed wiring or other ignition sources. Storage areas should be protected by a sprinkler system meeting insurance, NFPA and/or local codes.

Personal Protective Equipment and First-Aid Measures:

Respiratory – Under normal use conditions including installation and removal, as well as normal usage life as a cushion underlayment, this product should not produce dust which requires the use of a respirator.

Eyes - Approved safety glasses should be used when handling this product. Dust or other product particulates can cause irritation if it comes in contact with eyes. In the event that dust or particulates in the eye require first-aid attention; go to eyewash station, open eyelids and hold back while flushing with water for at least 15 minutes.

Hands – Approved gloves should be used when conducting manual or mechanical cutting operations.

General Hygiene Considerations: Maintain good housekeeping practices. Do not allow rubber scrap or dust to accumulate in the workplace or environment. Pick, sweep or vacuum up any dust or scrap.

Disposal: Dispose of waste and residues in accordance with applicable federal, state and local regulations. Recover and recycle, if practical.

Dear Customer:
